

MyiLibrary is a database that will allow access to full text online books (e-books). It covers a variety of subjects including computing, science, technology, business studies, and health. You may access MyiLibrary both on and off-campus.

Getting Started

- Go to the University's homepage – <http://www.wlv.ac.uk>
- Click on Current Students, then Electronic Resources
- Click on Databases A-Z
- Select M from the alphabetical list at the top and find MyiLibrary
- If you are off-campus, you will need to log in using your IT account username and password

Searching MyiLibrary

Enter your search terms (i.e. keywords) into the quick search box at the top of the page and click the search button. You can search for words in the full text of the book or you can select to search for keywords about the content of the book. If you already know the details of the book you can also search for author, title or ISBN.

There is also an advanced search option if you want to do a phrase search or combine different search options (e.g. search for books published recently on certain topics). If you have searched within the full text of the book, your search results will show where your words appear within the book.

Browsing MyiLibrary

In order to browse the titles in our subscription, click on the subject you are interested in from the homepage. You can also click on the See All button to specify a specific subject.
